EN

A gently flowing organic shape meets comfort in a lightweight design in the Ginger armchair. The medicinal ginger root's curved shapes inspired design studio Yonoh to create a cushioned model that is structurally strong but feels fresh and light. The slight bend in the legs is a reference to the heart of TON production. The back- and armrests are made from a single piece of moulded wood, upholstered with quality materials to form a compact unit. This makes the Ginger very comfortable without adding much to the weight.
